Art Unit: 3712

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-13 and 27-53 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b or e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Herrenbruck (6,484,671), Udelle et al, Krietzmen et al or Mathers alone, or further in view of Munro. Each of the first four references appears to show all of the elements of the claims including a toy that can emit either light or sound and can dispense treats for a pet (these treats are presumed to include treats that have a scent). In the event any of the aforementioned references are deemed not to disclose elements such as a translucent housing, it would have been obvious to provide the missing elements, including constructing the housing to be translucent, as a design expedient, or in order to make the disclosed devices more attractive to pets. On the other hand, Munro is cited to clearly show knowledge in the relevant art to dispense catnip odor or catnip from a pet toy or exercise device. It would have been especially obvious in view of Munro to dispense catnip or catnip odor from the devices of any of the other references in order to make them more interesting for a pet to play with.

4. Claims 14 -26 are allowed.
